- - Eating out in Valencia
    - Featured Restaurants
    - Mediterranean Restaurants
    - Innovative restaurants
    - International Restaurants
    - Tapas bars
  - Sports
    - Golf
    - Water Sports
    - Football
    - Tennis
    - Basketball
    - Horse Riding
    - Motor Sport
    - Paddle
    - Valencian Pilota
  - Photos
    - The City of Arts and Sciences
    - Fallas from Valencia
    - America's Cup
    - Valencia Cathedral
  - About us
    - More travel guides

- "Have a great holiday season and a very happy New Year!" 4:37 PM Dec 31st, 2009

Follow us on Twitter Too!
Home / Featured. General Information. Headline. Sports. Travel

"Aventura Oceanica 2.0″ sets sail from Valencia

16 November 2009 246 views No Comment

Yesterday Valencia has been the point of departure for the first sailing 2.0 around the world. 'Aventura Oceánica' (Ocean Venture) is a sailing trip around the world, combining high-level nautical sport with the most unique travel destinations of the planet including those with the highest difficulty a sailor may face .

Jose Carlos Corral and Enrique Fenollosa will be the sailmen of 'Aventura Oceánica' during two years. The whole experience will be shared through their blog using the latest 2.0 technologies.

The term "2.0″ comes from the term "Web 2.0″ which refers to a new generation of websites based on the creation of content produced and shared by the own portal users. The concept goes beyond the mere 2.0 technology and is becoming a philosophy of how to do things, with the characteristics of user interactivity and active participation. 'Aventura Oceánica' is born in its concept as a 2.0 project, which aims to proactively involve all those interested in their sailing round the world.

Related Posts

- A work of art of 2600 pieces at the Cathedral of Valencia (0)
- Top 20 articles about Valencia in 2009 (0)
- Ryanair announces a new route from Valencia to Bournemouth (0)

★★★★★Leave your response!